Introduction

The information in this handbook is provided to help graduate students understand graduate education policies and procedures at KU and in the School of Engineering. This information should be used in conjunction with the online Graduate Catalog (<http://www.ku.edu/academics/catalogs/>) and the University Registrar's Academic Calendar.

The primary responsibility for meeting graduation requirements rests with the student. When students have questions or concerns, they should discuss them with their advisor, department assistant or director, the School's Director of Graduate Student Services, Coordinator of Research and Graduate Programs, or the Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Programs.

Students should keep their mailing address and e-mail current with the university (even after graduation). This can be done online in Enroll & Pay > Campus Personal Information. The university sends important information to students by e-mail; students should check e-mail regularly.

Message from the Associate Dean of Research and Graduate Programs

Welcome Graduate Students.

I'm pleased that you've chosen to attend the University of Kansas School of Engineering. You've made an excellent choice that will serve you well. If you are not familiar with KU, the School of Engineering, or Lawrence, here are a few facts:

- Research funding in engineering has doubled in the last 5 years.
- Lawrence is the “opening destination” in Google Earth, in part because Google’s engineering director – Brian McClendon is a KU engineering graduate.
- Lawrence is a thriving community of over 88,000 in northeast Kansas, about 30 miles west of Kansas City. It is a true college town with a vitality and diversity uniquely its own. The city is home to two universities: KU and Haskell Indian Nations University; and, it boasts one of the most beautiful downtowns in the country that is home to shopping, restaurants, music venues, and coffee shops.
- Lawrence ranks highly on multiple “best” list: Forbes Magazine, MSNBC, and the American Institute for Economic Research all cite Lawrence in their rankings of cities and college towns.
- The University of Kansas Medical Center (KUMC) is a research partner with faculty on the main campus; KUMC is located in the nearby Kansas City metropolis.

If the list above isn't enough to get you thinking about how to spend your time as an engineering graduate student at KU, here's some more information:

The University of Kansas is a major research university with a long and successful record of research collaboration promoted through independent and multidisciplinary research centers that focus on common themes. I encourage you to think about your research interests early and begin talking with faculty members in these areas.

The School offers travel funds for you to present your research at professional conferences; and, you should be able to take advantage of these opportunities several times as your research interests are translated into publications.

It is also helpful to know your research interests as you complete your Plan of Study, which should be completed by the beginning of your second semester. Your Plan of Study serves as a record of your intentions, an indicator of the likely time-to-degree, and as an official acknowledgement of the adviser's and committee members' approval of your plan to fulfill degree requirements. In general, engineering graduate students earn degrees in a very timely fashion. In fact, engineering doctorate students, on average, earned degrees faster than any other program at KU between 2004 and 2006. Our number one goal is to make sure that you graduate, and ideally, that you graduate in a timely manner. Although you contribute knowledge to the School as a student, you contribute even more to the engineering profession as a graduate with an advanced degree.

The Graduate Engineering Association (GEA) also serves to help you develop professional skills. I encourage you to become involved with GEA and attend the many workshops and events offered throughout the year.

Ultimately, you are responsible for making sure that you take the appropriate steps needed to graduate; however, organizations, such as GEA, and staff members in the School are here to help. We have a vested interest in your success – it's not just about adding credentials behind your name. Please feel free to contact me or any member of my staff during your tenure here.

I wish you the best of luck.

Program Time Constraints – Degree Time Limits

MS Policy - <http://policy.ku.edu/graduate-studies/ma-program-time-constraints>

PhD Policy - <http://policy.ku.edu/graduate-studies/doctoral-program-time-constraints>

Research Skills & Responsible Scholarship

All doctoral students are required to obtain research skills and have training in responsible scholarship pertinent to the field of research. The requirements differ for each department/program. Students should consult their graduate advisor to find the requirements for their program.

<http://policy.ku.edu/graduate-studies/research-skills-responsible-scholarship>

Residency Policy

Two semesters, which may include one summer session, must be spent in resident study at KU. During this period, the student must be involved full time in academic or professional pursuits, which may include an appointment for teaching or research if it is directed specifically toward degree objectives. Enrollment in approved distance-learning courses offered through KU cannot be used to meet the doctoral residency requirement. The student must be enrolled in a minimum of 6 credit hours per semester, and the increased research involvement must be fully supported and documented by the dissertation supervisor as contributing to the student's dissertation or program objectives. Research must be performed under the direct supervision of the major adviser if on campus, or with adequate liaison if off campus.

Note: These are minimum residence requirements. Please check with the Graduate Division of your school or college for any additional requirements.

Graduation Requirements and Information

Graduate students have different deadlines and requirements than undergraduates, and students are advised to check the academic calendar for graduation deadlines. The first step is to "Apply to Graduate" in Enroll & Pay (also commonly referred to as "Application for Degree" or "AFD"). Submitting an Application for Graduation will generate a degree check by the Graduate Student Services Specialist. Students will receive additional graduation instructions once the Application for Graduation is complete. Additional information about degrees and Commencement is available on the University Registrar's Website and KU Commencement page.

For a complete checklist of graduation requirements see the Engineering Research and Graduate Program website at <http://www.engr.ku.edu/graduate/steps.html>.

*For more information, refer to the Graduate Catalog at <http://www.catalogs.ku.edu/graduate/>.

PROCEDURES FOR ENROLLMENT

Enrollment Process

1. Go to the KU portal and click on the "Enroll & Pay" link. The Enroll & Pay system will give a student his or her assigned enrollment time.
2. Individual departments/programs will advise students on which courses to enroll in. Students should complete the online Plan of Study (<https://gradplan.engr.ku.edu/>) after discussing coursework requirements with their advisor. The plan must be completed by the beginning of the second semester of study. The Plan of Study is a contract that shows which classes students will need to take to fulfill degree requirements. Students should review the Registrar's website for a complete enrollment guide and enrollment deadlines, withdrawal checklist, important dates, and fees associated with enrollment.

Late enrollment begins at 12:00 am on the first instructional day of the fall, spring, and summer semesters. An advising hold may be placed on students' accounts until they have met with an advisor to discuss classes for the following semester or if they have not enrolled for a semester. Department and program staff will release the hold once a student has been advised.

Course fees are listed on the KU Tuition Website at <http://www.tuition.ku.edu/rates.shtml>.

Dismissal

Graduate students must maintain an overall grade point average of 3.00, in which case the student is considered to be in good academic standing. A student who is on academic probation or admitted provisionally who fails to earn a B or better average may not be permitted to re-enroll. When the particular circumstances are deemed to justify continuation, and upon the recommendation of the department or program, such a student may be continued on probation by the Graduate Division for one additional semester equivalent of full-time study.

Leaves of Absence

All students who plan to sit-out for at least a semester should contact their departmental or program representative, so that programs are aware of the absence. Ordinarily, a leave of absence is granted for one year, with a possibility for extension upon request. After an absence of five years, however, a student must apply for readmission to the program and the Graduate Division. Please review the time limit portion of this handbook for more information.

<http://policy.ku.edu/graduate-studies/leave-of-absence?num2.6>

Students should contact their department or program to ensure they are able to enroll when they return from a leave of absence.

Change of Degree

A student wanting to change from one engineering degree program to another within the same department should see his or her department assistant to complete a progress to degree form. Students who wish to change to a program outside of their home department must submit an application for admission. If a student switches or is accepted into another program and wishes to only pursue the new degree, the student should notify the department assistant, so that the old plan may be removed from the student's record.

Degree Conferral

Graduate degrees are conferred by the University Registrar after final grades have been posted. Diplomas are available to pick up from the Registrar's Office approximately two months after graduation. Students can also make arrangements to have their diploma mailed to them.

Finances

Financial Aid Office

Graduate Teaching Assistant / Graduate Research Assistant

Students should approach their department assistant to apply for GTA/GRA positions or contact other departments directly (for example Physics, Math, Geology, or KU Computing Center). Students must be enrolled in a minimum of 6 hrs in the spring and fall semester (typically 3 for GRAs in the summer), and be in good academic standing to hold these positions. Additional information about GTA/GRA requirements is on the Graduate Studies Website at <http://www.graduate.ku.edu/>.

International GTA applicants are required by Board of Regents Policy to submit test scores for SPEAK and the ETS-administered Test of Spoken English, or iBT, the internet based TOEFL. Applied English Center (AEC) staff will administer the SPEAK test to applicants for GTA positions. For graduate students who hope to become GTAs, the AEC offers a special course called "Classroom Communication for ITAs".

KU Student Affairs

Student Affairs is a comprehensive student services office at the University of Kansas. They provide a variety of services and programs to assist students in the classroom, and out of the classroom.

Living Expenses

Finances are a major concern for most graduate students and their families. Although some students come with strong financial support from their families or governments, almost all graduate students need to plan carefully for their graduate student years. For further information about loans, teaching and research assistantships and other financial matters, see the subsection on finances in Section One or the SoE website.

It is difficult to generalize the cost of graduate education because expenses vary considerably from person to person.

Most students find it helpful to plan their budgets for the year so that they are not unduly surprised.

Helpful Budget categories:

Housing (rent, utilities, furnishings, cleaning, minor repairs)
Food (including beverages, meals at home and occasional meals out)
Apparel, Personal Needs (clothing, shoes, toiletries, laundry)
Transportation (fares, vehicle operating expenses, parking, insurance)
Medical (insurance, co-payments, uncovered medications)
Entertainment (movies, events, magazines/newspapers)

Books (for courses and outside research)
Taxes (state and federal)
Travel (to visit friends and family for holidays)
Professional (journal subscriptions, association memberships, conference travel)
Child Care
Course Fees (quarterly special fees)
Tuition/Document Fee (annual cost)

Housing

- KU Department of Student Housing (785) 864-4560
- Off-Campus Housing and Co-Operatives
Some popular websites to search for off-campus housing are: craigslist, Apartment Department, Apartments.com, Lawrence Student Housing Association, and McGrew Realty.
- Furniture and Household Items
  - Renting Furnishings
  - Buying Furnishings

Used items can be found at local secondhand stores, such as Goodwill and Locust Street Market Place, and at garage sales (check local newspapers' classified ads or Craigslist). Kansas City has numerous thrift stores about 40 minutes away. Consignment stores (check the Yellow Pages) often carry nicer goods, priced accordingly.

Stores selling new items are ubiquitous. Many students shop at retailers such as Target, World Market, TJ Maxx, and Wal-Mart for simple household goods. For students with a larger budget, downtown Lawrence has many department and specialty stores.

- Storage - There are no storage options on campus, but there are many inexpensive options off campus (see yellow pages).
- International Students - International students should check their cultural organization's website, which may have a list of items and suggestions on various topics; e.g., what things to bring from home that are not available here, what to expect at KU and in the U.S. The list of student organizations can be found at: <http://www.ku.edu/students/organizations.shtml>.

Dining Options

- KU Dining Services
- Kansas & Burge Union
- Snack Bars and Restaurants
Snack bars and cafés are located throughout campus including Eaton and Learned Hall. A list of restaurants and fast-food establishments close to campus can be found on Lawrence.com. Some local restaurants also have low-priced student menus.

Guidelines for Good Practices in the Graduate Student-Faculty Advisor Relationship

Other Policies

Academic & Research Policies

- Academic Standing
Graduate students must maintain an overall grade point average of 3.00, in which case the student is considered to be in good academic standing. A student who has a GPA below 3.0 will be placed on probation, and may be dismissed from the School of Engineering if the student is unable to regain good standing.
- Academic Misconduct
- Responsible Conduct of Research
- KU Center for Research \(KUCR\)
- Intellectual Property Policy
- Center for Technology Commercialization
- Computer & Network Usage

Policies Related to Personal Conduct

There is a Student Conduct Review Team (SCRT) available to assist students, staff, and faculty who have concerns about a specific student's behavior and don't know where to turn. SCRT can be reached M-F 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. at (785) 864-4060.

- Code of Ethics for Engineers
- Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities
- Engineer's Creed

Guidelines for Good Practices in the Graduate Student-Faculty Advisor Relationship

It is the student's responsibility to find a graduate advisor within the first year of study at KU and complete a Plan of Study with his or her advisor by the beginning of the second semester of study. Students should contact their department advisor for assistance if they have questions and have not yet found an advisor.

The student-advisor relationship is very important during the thesis or dissertation process. The School's annual Thesis and Dissertation Workshop offers a good guide to theses and dissertations and emphasizes the importance of understanding the role of each committee member.

Any general questions about graduation or graduate student rules and regulations should be directed to Engineering Research and Graduate Programs.
